

Press release
17 November 2010

Antisocial behaviour (ASB) forum a winner with residents

More than 80 residents came out last Saturday to discuss the impact ASB has on people's lives and how we can work together to tackle it.

Residents learned more about how Hackney Homes and the Council tackle ASB and importantly how to report it. They talked openly in workshops and saw solutions played out in drama pieces.

One resident commented: "I found the event very useful and helpful. Excellent" while another said, "Very good. I would come again."

Cllr Linden, Cabinet Member for Sustainability and Safer Communities who attended on the day as a panel member said:

"Antisocial behaviour affects residents and families. We committed to making sure that we do everything within our power to support residents and to take action against those causing problems."

-Ends-

Press queries to Angela Howard on 020 8356 3877, or email angela.howard@hackneyhomes.org.uk

Notes to Editors

- Hackney Homes is an arms-length management organisation managing around 30,000 council properties in the borough of Hackney.