

Press release
16 February 2011

'It's just part of the job' says Hackney Homes plumber shortlisted for Women in Construction Awards

Two female Hackney Homes staff have been shortlisted in the prestigious Women in Construction Awards.

Denise Hill, Electrical Services Manager and Daisy Clarke, Apprentice Plumber have been shortlisted for their dedication to providing excellent services, for paving the way for women in the industry and for being role models to others.

Charlotte Graves, Chief Executive of Hackney Homes said: This is a fantastic achievement by both Denise and Daisy. We are proud to have such a diverse and skilled workforce who are absolutely committed to providing excellent services to Hackney Homes residents”.

For more information about Women in Construction Awards, check the website www.housingexcellence.co.uk/events/women-construction-awards-2011

The winners will be announced at an event on 17 March 2011.

-Ends-

Press queries to Olaide Oyekanmi on 020 8356 3522, or email olaide.oyekanmi@hackneyhomes.org.uk

Notes to Editors

- Hackney Homes is an arms-length management organisation managing around 30,000 council properties in the borough of Hackney.